Restoring the mortgage loan limits is a top priority for the over one million members of the National Association of REALTORS®. Unless Congress acts, it will be harder for borrowers to obtain financing and home prices could slide even further, resulting in greater risk to financial stability for many American families. Shutting down access to credit right now while long-term policy solutions are being explored would only harm our economy and hurt our recovery.

Congress: Act Now to Restore Mortgage Loan Limits.
A Strong Housing Market is Critical to a Strong Economy.

ASSOCIATION of REALTORS®
