Dear Speaker Johnson and Leaders Schumer, McConnell, and Jeffries:

The 1.5 million members of the National Association of REALTORS urge Congress to act quickly to extend the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) before its September 30th expiration.

Americans deserve certainty and stability in the flood insurance marketplace so that they can protect their homes, businesses and loved ones. Since 2017, NFIP's authority has been extended 30 times and allowed to briefly lapse on several occasions. Another lapse of the NFIP will leave millions of Americans at risk and disrupt the purchase of flood insurance in more than 20,000 communities across the United States.

Not only would Americans be unable to purchase new NFIP policies during an authorization lapse, but also property owners and renters currently insured by the NFIP would be unable to renew their policies. Without access to flood insurance, American families must rely on federal disaster aid, which is severely limited, and according to NAR research, 1,300 property sales each day could be forced to move forward and go bare without the protection of flood insurance depending on lender approval. The risk of an unnecessary NFIP lapse puts American lives, families, properties and businesses at untenable risk and must be avoided.

Extending the NFIP would ensure this vital program does not lapse in the middle of hurricane season or create additional challenges for residential and commercial property owners, buyers, managers, renters, and tenants. We commend the House Financial Services and Senate Banking Committees for continuing to work on longer-term NFIP reauthorization and reform measures and look forward to Congress bringing some stability and predictability to this essential program.

REALTORS urge an on-time extension of the NFIP.

Sincerely,
